PANSY AND VIOLA

Sakata takes the guess work out of pansy and viola selections for you. Our full line-up satisfies each market segment all season. Sakata pansies are tested from north to south and east to west in spring and fall in order to bring the best selection for your region.

Majestic Giants II features HUGE 4 inch flowers on vigorous plants. They work anywhere, especially under warmer conditions where other varieties may shrink or flower before they fill out the pots. Majestic Giants are best used in late summer, early fall or in temperate areas where they will flower all winter.

Grandio offers large flowers and more compact plants that bloom profusely going into the short days of winter. Once the warmer temperatures of autumn subside, use Grandio for uniform and consistent flowering. They will overwinter as far north as zone 5 and beyond. In warmer areas they will flower all winter. In colder areas Grandio will begin to re-flower as temperatures warm.

Spring Grandio are selected for first flowering under the shortest of days and are perfect for your spring pansy crop. The large flowers will appear uniformly across the series in early spring 11-12 weeks after sowing. Every color class is available along with 3 designer mixes.

ColorMax Violas are the largest flowering violas in the market. Suitable for fall and spring, ColorMax will produce larger flowers than other violas even under warmer conditions. The plants have the vigor to fill in packs, pots, baskets and mixed containers fully and will reliably overwinter, flowering under the shortest of days. Growers, retailers and landscapers love the amount of color produced—that's why we call it ColorMax!
